

McNair Weekly Part Two
TWO Research Areas of Interest

GOAL: Pinpoint key people doing key research that seems appealing to you. Scope out at least TWO research articles in your area of interest.

NOTE: You can be “efficient” by looking up recent publications by faculty based at graduate programs you are currently exploring.

EXERCISE: Write a paragraph that summarizes the research (in a sentence), but more importantly, talk about what you think about the research in relation to your over-arching interests and career goals. Talk about the research within the context of your own knowledge within this area of study.
